LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Date: 16-11-2024

To,
Shashwat Shah, Sakshi Gangwani, and Aksh Nishar,
Final Year B. Tech Students,
Dwarkadas J. Sanghvi College of Engineering

This letter serves to formally acknowledge and appreciate the significant contribution made by you all through your project titled "IoT enabled robot for detecting gas pipe leakage." Your collaborative effort and initiative to publish a patent is a significant achievement for our institution.

The use of advanced technologies, including IoT, machine learning, and mobile app development, reflects the technical skills and commitment demonstrated by your team in solving real-world challenges. Your project has not only brought recognition to our college, but has also showed the potential of our students to make a tangible impact on society.

Thank you for your hard work, and I wish you all continued success in your future endeavours.

Dr. Hari Vasudevan
